Interested in sport and youth work?

Want to make a difference in your community?

Registered charity EIL and Gloucester Rugby in the Community are looking for young people aged 17-19 to take part in an exciting new project called FAIR Play.

The programme will bring together people of different backgrounds to learn about each other's lives and cultures and explore ways of combatting racism and intolerance both in sport and in the local community. If you think you could be a sports and community leader then this is the course for you.

FAIR Play gives you the opportunity to:

- complete an RFU accredited sports leadership course for FREE
- do something great for your CV
- attend an initial 3 day training which will involve taking part in anti-racism and cultural identity workshops, meeting local policy makers and community leaders to discuss issues relevant to young people from Gloucester (crime, unemployment, racism, youth provision) whilst receiving professional rugby coaching
- volunteer at the Gloucester Rugby fanzone to complete your leadership qualification
- create an anti-racism film to be shown at Kingsholm
